ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We would like to thank the following people:

Group Captain John Conway, Station Commander at RAF Akrotiri who made us most welcome and arranged for base facilities to be made available to us;

Major Chris Clowes, Episkopi Garrison Quartermaster, who loaned us the necessary field equipment for our ringing teams to establish their ringing sites;

Fg Off Mark Blower (RAF), OC C Flt, RAF Akrotiri who was our official POC at RAF Akrotiri and who arranged all our security passes – he was the key that opened many doors and without his help the survey would have been made immeasurably more difficult;

Wg Cdr (Retd) Roger Bent, SO2 J4 (Tpt), who made the necessary arrangements for the loan of 2 Land Rovers that enabled our ringing teams to reach their operating sites with all their associated equipment;

Capt Chris Meneer, OC TSU RAF Akrotiri, and his staff who actually provided the Land Rovers and arranged for our drivers to obtain their military driving permits;

Mr Ian Davidson-Watt, SO1 Safety, Health and Environment, who was our official sponsor, arranged all our Staff Clearances and generally paved the way for the survey to take place; all the other members of the SBAA Environment office, but in particular Pantelis and Alexia who facilitated meetings with several organisations and individuals who helped us throughout the survey;

Thomas Hadjikyriakou at the Akrotiri Environment and Education Centre, who helped us find our accommodation in Akrotiri village, allowed us to use his facility as our HQ and to commandeer his work-station on occasions for survey business; all the staff at the Centre whose co-operation and assistance contributed significantly to the success of the survey;

Melis Charalambides, Chairman of BirdLife Cyprus; all the BirdLife Cyprus Staff, but in particular, Martin Hellicar who was our first point of contact with BirdLife Cyprus, Chris Charalambides who arranged for us to use BirdLife's bank account to hold our funds and pay our bills, Alan Crabtree who arranged for the supply of rings and made a special effort to come and brief our ringing teams and Colin Richardson whose knowledge of Cyprus bird migration patterns was of great help to our observer teams.

We must also acknowledge the timely help of Nick of Nicholas Rentals, Limassol, who provided us with other vehicles when needed at a good deal less than the going commercial rate.
